

The Sunshine Tour

International Showjumping and dressage

16th February to 21st March 2010

Every year in February and March Dehesa Montenmedio becomes the most frequented equestrian showground in Europe. Nowhere else are so many horses and riders together at one event. The Sunshine Tour started eleven years ago and attracts riders from all over the world to the ideal winter climate of the Spanish Atlantic coast. With eleven weather proof arenas, paddocks, 1500 fixed stables, accommodation for riders and staff and a fully equipped veterinary clinic, Montenmedio offers perfect conditions to get the outdoor season started. The Sunshine Games are actually a long series of events that are all held at this single venue in order to minimise the travelling on the part of participating owners and horses.

The tour encompasses 3 weeks of international dressage competition with 8 competition categories and a total of 5 weeks international show jumping competition with 11 categories. As well as rubbing shoulders with up and coming young stars, you can watch today's top riders such as.....

John Whitaker (Great Britain), Billy Twomey (Ireland), Rodrigo Pessoa (Brasil), Peter Wylde (USA), or the dressage riders Carl Hestor (Great Britain) Nicole Uphoff and Alexandra Simons-de-Ridder (Germany)

The Sunshine Tour is the perfect way to start the outdoor season!

Holiday at Los Alamos and visit the tour

Los Alamos is based just 15 minutes drive from the Montenmedio show ground. During the period between the 16th February and the 21st of March we will offer our riding guests the opportunity to visit this unique event during their holiday with us. Each afternoon after a great days riding we will provide transport to the show ground which is free to enter. Subject to competition times and dates you can watch show jumping and dressage competition as well as visiting the shopping village that is set up around the event. Los Alamos offers both full weeks and short break holidays during this period. Prices start from 618 Euros for an all inclusive four night stay with three fantastic days riding.
